

TO: Hon. Justice Amy Coney Barrett

RE: Request for Time Extension to file Writ of Certiorari

Dear Justice Barrett:

Though I hope to secure suitable counsel, I am writing you as a pro se, paid filer. I request a 60-day extension of time (Rule 13.5) to file a petition for a Writ of Certiorari in the case of Fitzgibbon v. Fitzgibbon (Wisconsin Court of Appeals Case #2023AP000611). I have attached the Order from the Wisconsin Supreme Court, which was decided on December 10, 2024. No rehearing was possible, so the Order is final. Therefore, I believe the current deadline for filing is March 10, 2025 and my requested new deadline would be May 9, 2025. The reasons for my extension request are as follows:

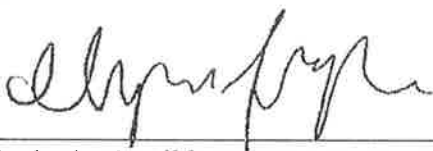

1. On January 28, 2025, the Winnebago County Circuit Court scheduled ten additional actions for March 14, 2025, some three business days after the original Writ of Certiorari deadline. I am the Petitioner in nearly all of the actions, which have been backlogged for months. As I am pro se, I must now allocate previously unforeseen preparation to these. Originally, each action was to have been first heard by the Commissioner (generally 1-3 per hearing) with an opportunity to easily de novo review any misunderstandings without additional cost. Now, these are scheduled for a single day's original review by a Judge, likely without de novo opportunity, thus increasing the importance of first-time adjudication. I will soon request a schedule less burdensome for all parties, but I cannot rely on the Court to grant one in a timely manner, given that the eldest action's scheduling was delayed for 4.5

2. I have needed to invest heavily into my last living minor child, who was taken from me without my consent, kept for months, and returned to me altered. Alleviating his abuse, restoring his familial relations, and aiding his development remain my highest priority. This has taken more time, for far longer than I have anticipated, even during the past 45 days.
3. Given my to-date inability to secure affordable counsel, and the necessary, significant research required of Constitutional law (I am a phlebotomist by trade, not an attorney), I had minimal reserve capacity from which to draw for composing and filing my first petition.

I believe this case is an excellent candidate for this Court's review and could result in significant changes in law. What I will present to the Supreme Court in my Writ of Certiorari is orthogonal to the origins of the Wisconsin case itself and should uniquely test jurisdictional boundaries. Whether or not I ultimately benefit from this effort is less important to me than using my unique case to mitigate harm to millions of Americans.

Thank you.
